Dear Professor Walden:

This is in response to your letter requesting copies of the briefs and public documents filed in the case of Heine v. Raus.

The proceeding to which you refer was a suit between two private parties, who were represented by their own counsel. Paul R. Connolly, Esq. appeared on behalf of Mr. Raus; whereas, Mr. Heine was represented by Ernest C. Raskauskas, Esq. Inasmuch as they prepared the briefs, it would seem appropriate that your request for copies be directed to them. Mr. Connolly and Mr. Raskauskas are both located in Washington, D. C. Their addresses are 839 Seventeenth Street, N. W., and 1825 K Street, N. W., respectively.

I am enclosing copies of certain public documents. These are the secrecy agreement executed by Mr. Raus, the four affidavits by the then Deputy Director of Central Intelligence in support of Mr. Raus' claim of absolute privilege, and the claim of evidentiary privilege asserted by the Agency.

Your interest in the Agency is appreciated.

Very truly yours,

Robert J. Bladergroen
Assistant General Counsel
